

The Weekly Amunategui.GitHub.io and ViralML.com Newsletter

December 11th, 2018

Hello Friends!

Two more weeks have flown by! So its timely to share a post on time-saving hacks in this newsletter.

Also, for the coders out there, wanted to share an awesome stat that I recently tweeted (connect with me on Twitter @amunategui):

"From the 2018 StackOverflow Developer Survey, over 80% of professional developers also code as a hobby - what other professions can say that???"

Coding as a Hobby

98,855 responses

Many developers work on code outside of work. Over 80% of our respondents say that they code as a hobby. Other interests or responsibilities outside of software don't seem to reduce developers' interest in coding as a hobby. Those who said they are parents or have other caretaking responsibilities, those who exercise daily, or those who spend the most time outside were slightly more likely to code as a hobby than other groups.
